High-proof alcohol is needed, too, for making essential war products. That's why most of the distilleries are now converted to war production. And that's why some of the newer liquor brands are missing from the present market.

But the older, proven, quality liquor manufacturers are supplying us with substantial reserve stocks from ample ware-houses. When you buy these brands, you can be certain their high standards remain unchanged by present conditions.

Come to the Midtown Liquor Store for the best in liquors, wines, beers, mixers and tobaccos for home serving.

THE PRICE OF FREEDOM

Everybody wants freedom. "Freedom" is a popular word. But, as Eric Johnson recently pointed out in an article in Reader's Digest entitled "Your Stake in Capitalism," you cannot have freedom unless you also have "capitalism." Capitalism is as unpopular as freedom is popular—and therein lies the danger to freedom.

It has long been good political strategy to talk about freedom and dam capital in the same breath. Under such inconsistent reasoning our lawmakers have enacted much social legislation designed to enhance the freedom of the individual by establishing wage and hour standards and other economic safeguards, while at the same time passing laws which destroy capital and threaten the very freedom they profess to uphold.

Capital is accumulated savings which, put to productive use by private citizens, supplies jobs and opportunities. When private citizens are prevented from accumulating capital and using it to create jobs, private jobs in free enterprise gradually cease to exist.

As Johnson observes: " . . . A great many people—in polling booths and legislative bodies—have thought that you can tax business just as much as you like and still have 'free enterprise' and the 'American way of life.' You cannot. Just suppose that you taxed all new savings and all new profits and all new capital out of private hands into the public treasury. What would you have left to be the creator of new jobs? Only the government. Only the totalitarian state. . . . We stand at a solemn parting of the ways. Our business leaders and our labor leaders want freedom. . . . But what is the price of freedom? I say it is the capital with which to operate capitalism. The word is capitalism."

Freedom will be lost unless we recognize the truth of Johnson's words.

Some Help With "Difficult Dates"

People who have difficulty remembering dates are in for much worse headaches than ever before, now that rationing has made the "date" all-important.

To make life a little simpler, this newspaper runs a tabulation of those dates which mean food, clothing, tires, and escape of penalties in this column, each week.

April 24—Blue stamps "G," "H," "J" in War Ration Book Two became valid for purchase of processed foods.
April 25—"E" red stamp is now valid; expires at a date to be announced later.
April 30—Red stamps "A," "B," "C," and "D" expire.
April 30— Blue stamps D, E, and F, for purchase of rationed processed foods, expire.
May 1—deadline for non-deferable men to get war work or fight.
May 21—last day to use No. 5, "A" coupon for 4 gallons of gasoline.
May 31—last day to use Coupon 12 in War Book One for 5 pounds of sugar.
May 31—Last day to use blue coupons "G," "H," and "J."
May 31—Coupon 23, good for a pound of coffee, expires.
June 15—last day to use Coupon 17 (in the sugar book) for purchase of shoes (one pair).

Buy one more vegetable fresh every day and help make your canned food ration go further

Here is one wartime request everybody can cheer over. Because this means it's patriotic to buy vegetables fresh . . . with the crispness, sweet flavor and tenderness all in them. More. The vegetable which is fresh not only tastes better but is tops in vitamin values, too. That's why Safeway rushes produce straight in from the farm —cutting out needless delays and in-between costs, thus giving you the freshest produce at the lowest price. Because their system of pricing produce by the pound saves you money in wasted, wilted left-overs. Remember, at Safeway you pay only for what you can use today—while it's at its best!

Pointwise pointers on vegetables

Your vegetable menu is not altogether a matter of getting the most out of your ration coupons. The way they are received at the table counts too. Of course, the best way to be assured of an ample supply of vegetables these rationed days is to serve fresh vegetables as often as possible.

Camouflage them in casserole dishes, in souffles, omelets, or serve them in oversize salads and as simple garnishes. Tomatoes, onions, summer type squash, peppers, turnips, cabbage leaves, and cucumbers can be stuffed with a meat, cheese, or egg mixture and prepared as the main course. These are just some of the ways you bait your family and get them to eat their share of the precious vitamins and minerals offered by vegetables.

MIXED VEGETABLE TAMALE—Combine 2 or more kinds of cooked, drained, diced vegetables in a well-greased casserole, season with salt and pepper and top with a layer of corn meal muffin batter. Bake in a hot oven (400° F.) for about 20 minutes or until done or topping is golden brown. Be sure to try spinach and diced turnips, squash and tomatoes, green beans and carrots, and eggplant and celery.

CARROT STUFFED ONIONS—Fill uncooked onion cups loosely with shredded raw carrots, season, and steam with a small amount of water in a Dutch oven or tightly covered sauce pan. Serve with the main course as a vegetable and garnish.

VEGETABLE SHORTCAKES—For delicious variety, serve creamed vegetables between and on top of piping hot biscuits. The family will lap them up. Creamed vegetables on mashed potatoes, baked potatoes or steamed rice are readily eaten, too. Peas, diced carrots or asparagus, green string or lima beans, or quartered Brussels sprouts are good.

SCALLOPED VEGETABLES—Rutabagas, turnips, carrots, potatoes, celery or onions are always welcome additions to the menu when scalloped. Arrange 1 quart of sliced raw vegetables in layers in a well-greased baking dish. Season each layer with salt, pepper and finely chopped parsley. Cover whole with 2 cups thin white sauce and ½ cup buttered cracker crumbs. Bake in a slow oven (300° F.) until brown. Serves 6.
